From the Board

The first IB Parent Meeting of the New Year was held on Tuesday, January 4, 2011 in a 'packed house' Community Room, and featured a panel of GW IB graduates who shared their impressions and experiences as college students, and addressed how the IB program helped to prepare them for college. The evening's program was informative, enjoyable, and insightful. Students on the panel are attending large schools, small schools, coed, all girls, rural, urban, suburban, in state, out-of-state, public and private institutions. There was ample time for questions and the responses were as varied and diverse as the students themselves.

Our next parent meeting will be February 8th, in the Community Room. This is a return visit for IB parents Dana and Pam Wakefield. Dana is a retired juvenile court judge and Pam was a prosecuting attorney in the juvenile courts. They are currently in private practice as Court Appointed Special Advocates.

We have 310 applications from potential freshman and Mrs. Geimer and Ms. Lane have been interviewing applicants daily since the beginning of the semester. Our students are the best advertisement for the IB program. We hear that many applicants have chosen to come to the IB program because of their shadow experience. A BIG thank you goes out to the students who helped make the shadows so comfortable at GW. Cora Neslin continued our GW hospitality by following up every shadow date with a phone call to the family.

Behind the scenes, IB parents are planning and coordinating 2nd semester events. Linda During is working closely with Rusty Haynes, the GWIB college counselor by promoting his informative Saturday workshops and by helping introduce the college application process to our junior students. Paul Day-Lucore continues to edit The Broadcaster. Linda Williams is once again spearheading our March "Welcome Fest." Co-Chairs Julia Fitzpatrick and Dave Marsh are soliciting parent volunteers to help with the annual Senior Brunch and Leslie Lilly and I have just completed Mrs. Geimer's "Distinguished Denver Teacher Award" nomination portfolio.

Now that we are into the second semester of the school year, it is time to begin thinking about Board Positions for next year. Committed and involved parents are what make the Association such a successful organization and a strong voice for the IB Program. This is the perfect time to get involved with the IB Parent Association Board, especially if you have a 9th or 10th grader. Call or email Kristi Butkovich if you'd like more information. The IB Board meets the first Tuesday of the month in the Community Room. We invite you to join us! All are welcome!

Volunteer Proctors needed for IB Exams May 3-23

Seniors and some juniors will be taking IB examinations during May.

IBO has stringent guidelines for the conduct of these exams, and meeting them is a logistical challenge that Mrs. Geimer manages to meet every year – but she needs our help to do it.

Parents, this is a golden opportunity to get an insider’s glimpse of the IB External Assessment experience. Please consider volunteering to proctor (“invigilate,” in IB-speak) one or more of the May exams, being held at Temple Emanuel, 51 Grape Street. Morning exams begin at 7:30 AM, and afternoon exams begin at Noon.

Proctor training will be offered in April (date TBD). While not required, it provides helpful guidance, particularly for those new to the process.

You can see the complete IB exam schedule at www.georgeib.com. Click on “Student Info” then click on “IB Exam Dates – May 2011.” This will download a pdf file from the IBO web site. Don’t be frightened by the schedule! GW only offers a subset of the subjects listed!

For more information, e-mail Elaine Tintera at dtelainet@msn.com.

Tuesday, March 8 at 6:30 PM

The IB Parent Board is pleased to announce the upcoming annual Welcome Fest. We are looking for IB students who are involved with extra-curricular activities and are willing to share their experiences. In addition, we are looking for 8 to 10 IB Freshmen to act as general hosts and interact with the guests. Parent volunteers are welcome to help staff the event and/or provide baked goods or snacks. Free pizza will be served before the event for volunteer students!

The committee chair would like to hear from anyone who wants to showcase their talents, clubs, sports, competitions, honor societies, etc. This is a great way to recruit members for activities and get a start on next year’s membership! If anyone has any art you’d like to display, or a performance you’d like to try out, there’s room for you too!

Please contact Linda Williams at lindasue222@comcast.net or 303-752-2477 if you’d like to help.

“LIFE AFTER IB” Meeting a hit!

Six members of GWIB’s Class of 2009 shared their collective wisdom with current students and their parents at the well-attended January 4th IB Parent Association meeting. We are deeply grateful to this panel, (pictured below: Front row: Connor Williams and Sophia Prado-Irwin; back row: D.J. Mares, Parker Martin, Will Witwer and Arielle Finegold) for allowing us an honest glimpse into campus life – for better and for worse – delivered with remarkable grace, charm, wit, and good humor.

Attendees gained insight into what impels students to choose a large vs. mid-sized public or private university vs. a small liberal arts college, or an urban vs. suburban vs. rural setting. While there were plenty of happy tales of finding academic and social fulfillment, our guests also shared stories of challenges faced and mastered, which included everything from having to reapply to colleges after a gap year to roommate/dorm challenges to making the decision to transfer.

As is typical of our grads, these students find themselves well-prepared to take advantage of the opportunities college life offers. We wish them well as they continue their college careers and look forward to following their future adventures.

February IB Parent Meeting:

IB Students are bright, competent, clever, and intelligent, right? Hardworking, ambitious, dedicated high school students abound in GW's IB program, and we know they love learning, enjoy feeling independent, and thrive in challenging situations. Yet, life isn't always smooth sailing, and even our students will face dilemmas at times. You will go home with many new ideas and levels of awareness regarding our children's lives. With their combined experience, the Wakefields will provide much to think about!

Parents and Students are encouraged to attend!

La Voz Nueva* Student of the Week

GWIB Senior Tanner Sandoval was selected as Student of the Week by the weekly bilingual periodical La Voz Nueva in October of 2010. (<http://www.lavozcolorado.com/news/5294/tanner-sandoval-profile>) Each week, La Voz selects an outstanding Hispanic high school student and pays tribute to him or her. Tanner was selected because of his community service, Speech and Debate participation, and school sports (football and baseball), as well as his outstanding academic record. Congratulations, Tanner! We're proud to have you represent GW!

Here's a FUN way to get involved!

The 2011 Senior Brunch Committee needs your help in planning and executing this fun and exciting event for our outgoing class. Please e-mail Dave Marsh dave@bellabasil.com or Julia Fitzpatrick juliefitzpatrick@msn.com for more information and to offer your help!

THE IB COLLEGE COUNSELING CORNER

Congratulations, SENIORS, on making it through the whirlwind that is the first semester of senior year and completing your college applications (with a few exceptions for later-deadline schools). More than a third of the Class of 2011 has already received one or more acceptances! Eleven happy seniors (primarily those who opted for Early Decision) already know where they are headed in the fall: David Alpert – University of Colorado at Boulder, Amelia Brunner – Columbia University, Tai Chen – Duke University, Hannah Fisher – Northwestern University, Kourtney Green – Hampton University, Ben Holston – Stanford University, Amelia Kucic – Swarthmore College, John (Cal) McIntyre – University of Colorado at Boulder, Ethan Melnick – George Washington University, Julia Sigman – University of Pennsylvania, and Devon Stork – Harvey Mudd College. Other acceptances (either Early Action or rolling admissions) that students have shared with the IB office as of mid-January include Alaska Pacific University, Arizona State University, Auburn University, California Institute of Technology (aka Cal Tech), Clarkson University, Coe College, Colorado College, Colorado School of Mines, Colorado State University, Drew University, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical Academy (FL), Georgia Institute of Technology, Hiram College, Lewis & Clark College, Lynchburg College, Montana State University-Bozeman, Oregon State University, Pacific Lutheran University, Pennsylvania State University, Regis University, Ripon College, Tulane University, University of British Columbia, University of Chicago, University of Colorado at Boulder/Colorado Springs/Denver, University of Denver, University of Kansas, University of Michigan, University of Northern Colorado, University of Oregon, University of Vermont, Western Washington University, and Whittier College. Students with EA or rolling acceptances have until May 1 to accept or decline these offers. Once students decide where they will be going, they should respond promptly to all requests for paperwork, particularly regarding housing and particularly for large institutions which often fill prime residences quickly. They should continue to share application outcomes with the IB Office and with recommending teachers, and to enter the information in their Naviance accounts. This column is happy to report all seniors' good news, but we won't pair a student's name with a college until Naviance shows that the student has committed to that college.

By mid-January, midyear transcripts were in final stages of preparation for mailing, the last step for most applications. Mrs. Geimer, Ms. Lane, and the IB teachers who wrote recommendations deserve a standing ovation for successfully sending out the mountains of paperwork required to support more than 500 applications submitted by our 95 seniors. Although the volume is slightly less daunting, they are still hard at work responding to requests for supporting documents for scholarship applications. Remember to thank them – profusely! By now most colleges should have finished filing all the pieces of the applications, but some will still be sorting through the masses of paper on their end. If a student receives a notice that something is missing, please contact Ms. Lane (Marjorie.Lane@dpsk12.org or 720-423-8673) before getting upset. Usually a quick phone call and/or fax can remedy the situation, and you'll often discover that "what once was lost has now been found." If a student receives any additional awards or honors that would enhance applications, he or she should update the admissions representatives. Now is also a very good time to continue looking for additional scholarships; remember www.fastweb.com. Seniors should maintain their grades and fight the temptation to succumb completely to senioritis. They'll be glad they did when they request advanced standing from their college in the fall. We've all heard tales of students whose acceptances were rescinded due to poor spring grades and no GWIB senior should become one of them!

SENIORS AND THEIR PARENTS should be working on, or done with, financial aid applications. Many highly selective schools require that the FAFSA and CSS PROFILE be filed by February 1, with actual tax returns due soon after. Please check each college's requirements carefully, and meet them to the letter. It is wise to check the status of your FAFSA about a week after you file it online, or as soon as you receive a written confirmation if you filed on paper. Future Center Advisor Michael Jennings is offering FAFSA Help Nights on February 2 and 16, at 6 PM in the Business Lab (Room 321).

JUNIORS should be getting serious about their college search by now and perhaps planning for visits over spring break. On December 4, Mr. Haynes made an excellent presentation about researching colleges and developing a list. On January 22 he followed up with College Admission 101, an orientation to the application process. Many thanks to Kelly Morrison for making podcasts of these talks, posted on the website under "College Prep." Mr. Haynes has also been meeting with juniors and parents individually, primarily on Saturdays. Contact him via email at collegemasters@comcast.net or phone at 719-232-5305 or 719-576-9487 to schedule an appointment. Working on the college list with Mr. Haynes will help make campus visits better focused and more worth the time and expense.

This is a good time for juniors to begin work on a résumé and personal statement to share with Mrs. Geimer when they meet with her later in the spring. There will also be group meetings later in the semester to teach the junior class the nuts and bolts of putting together their actual applications, including details of how to obtain counselor/school reports, transcripts, and teacher recommendations.

Now is also the time for juniors to complete their test preparations and to register for whatever combination of SAT, ACT, and Subject Tests they will take between now and early June. Testing is not offered during the summer, and it is wise to complete at least one round before then. (A few freshmen and sophomores may also decide to take a Subject Test or two.) Mr. Haynes is offering test prep seminars on February 5 (SAT) and 19 (ACT) at 9 AM. Once students have firmed up their test schedules, they should complete online registration promptly (<http://www.collegeboard.com/testing> and <http://actstudent.org>) to avoid late fees.

PSAT scores from October have been distributed by Asst. Principal Sara Leikin, who reports that a few stragglers have not yet picked theirs up. Notification of National Merit/Achievement/Hispanic Scholar status will not come until the fall.

PARENTS OF JUNIORS, be assured that many, many juniors are not nearly as ready to launch themselves full tilt into the college process as you think they should be. Try to stay out of any power struggles while helping your student acquire the tools to do the job. By the same token, do what you can to guide your student to get on track because next fall will become overwhelmingly busy. Encourage your junior to talk with Mr. Haynes and with current seniors and college students, and make college guides available. Campus visits will also make college much more real and tangible for your junior.

JUNIORS' PRE-ACT, SOPHOMORES' ACT PLAN and FRESHMEN'S ACT EXPLORE results will be distributed by Ms. Leikin in class meetings soon. Results are a good predictor of future ACT performance and can help students begin to identify colleges whose admission profiles are a good fit for them. Results can also help students figure out what areas they should be working on in their test preparations. Parents, ask your student to share these results with you. They are too important to leave languishing in the bowels of his or her book bag!

ALL STUDENTS should be thinking about how they will spend their summer break. Many graduating seniors will need to earn their contribution to next year's tuition, and should be lining up a job as early as they can. All students should consider activities like summer study at a college or abroad, volunteer work, an internship, or a job. The IB Office has some information on file to help jumpstart their research. And don't forget to include plenty of summer fun too.

Anyone who is curious about the college search process might enjoy reading Acceptance: A Legendary Guidance Counselor Helps Seven Kids Find the Right Colleges – and Find Themselves by David Marcus. It contains a lot of wisdom – and sanity – that just might help with keep things in perspective. The book is a good follow up to the January alumni panel, reminding us that there is no one "right" college, but rather many possible ways for students to find their own paths.

IB Foundation Reception a Success!

To help launch the 25th anniversary of the International Baccalaureate program at George Washington High School, an esteemed group of honorary hosts (Helen Atkeson and Stan Raine, Patricia Ebrahimi, Laurie Hirschfeld Zeller and Marty Zeller, Robin and Frank Semple, Don and Ruth Mares, Pam and Bob Troyer, Margie Strook and Andy Low, Gully Stanford and Dorothy Denny, Ed Stein and Lisa Hartman, Chetter and Tony Latcham, and the Honorable Diana DeGette and Lino Lipinsky) sponsored a reception at the home of Helen Atkeson. Cora Neslin did a magnificent job from start to finish orchestrating the event!

Over seventy friends of the wonderful IB program who have played or continue to play a role in the success of the program attended. It was gratifying to see such support, and not only monetarily (the attendees contributed over $10,000!!) but as boosters of the program as well. Thanks to all who came and donated! We reconnected with many, and we hope to maintain the momentum by enlisting your backing!

The reason behind the reception was to build an alumni base, become reacquainted with friends and family of IB, and launch an outreach initiative called the Bridges to Excellence program. The latter involves a major effort to support the program and all of those – from Director Suzi Geimer to the teachers, administrators, and parents - who are so committed to maintaining the highest standards of education that IB has represented for years. The aim is to make the IB diploma that you or your student worked so hard to earn accessible to all qualified students in the Denver community. Once they are at George Washington, Bridges to Excellence will provide them, as well as our teachers and staff, the tools needed to live up to IB's reputation for excellence built over the past quarter-century.

Bridges to Excellence will focus solely on the educational mission of the IB career, ensuring that the program remains open to all students who seek a rigorous and comprehensive four-year learning experience that sets them on the road to college and a fulfilling career. This new project will be multi-faceted. It will help some students by enrolling them in a special course of study designed to make them IB-proficient. Others will benefit from updated or new technology, deep and permanent support for teachers in all subjects, and counseling and other services that need our backing. Bridges to Excellence will ensure that the IB program that so served you will continue to benefit generations to come.

We are proud to have sponsored the reception, and again, thank the donors and attendees. And we welcome, as usual, your support through your $40 dues to the IB program and donations in any amount you can make. You can contribute by signing up and using our new purchasing program for thousands of products (a percentage of which goes to the IB program every time you buy something online) by visiting: www.marketamerica.com/georgeib.

And please remember that since the Friends of IB Scholars Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, your gift can be tax-deductible. Please do not delay in sending in your donations, whether $25, $100, $500 or more. Please send your contributions to Friends of IB Scholars Foundation, c/o Janice Thomas, Treasurer, 1634 S. Leyden Street, Denver, Colorado 80224.

Finally, always feel free to contact me by phone, at 303-364-9181 or at my office, 303-492-2353, or by email at tomzeiler@msn.com, if you have any questions about the IB Foundation, fund-raising, and the program, or simply have some ideas for us. We always look forward to hearing from you!

People You Should Know: LAURIE BUCHANAN

Every morning before school even begins, IB math teacher Laurie Buchanan is happily interacting with students and her fellow teachers. Outside of her third floor classroom, she has a jovial face on and says a warm welcome to everyone she sees.

This eagerness does not stop in the halls. All day every day, Buchanan is GW's bright light in a subject that seems mundane to many. She describes her teaching style as "enthusiastic" and her students would agree. Why? "I have a lot of fun doing math, and I want my students to enjoy it too!" (She's pictured at right with Junior Chloe Thomas.)

With Buchanan's can-do attitude, it is no wonder she has become what some would call a big shot in the IB world, "Two years ago, I was invited to the IB offices in Cardiff, Wales to attend a curriculum review meeting for the class I teach, IB Mathematics SL. IB reviews the curriculum for all the classes every six or seven years, and they are interested in the input they get from teachers all over the world. I had already been grading IB exams for a few years, so I was interested in the process. When they asked for teacher comments, I filled out a survey about the new curriculum review, and this is how I was chosen to attend the meeting along with eight other teachers from other parts of the world,"

As if this were not enough of a big deal, Buchanan has gone even further in depth with the International Baccalaureate Programme.

"In the two years since attending that first meeting in March 2009, I have gone to seven different meetings in Cardiff. I have also become a Deputy Chief Examiner for IB Mathematics SL. There are five of us, and we travel to Cardiff about four times a year to help work on writing the exams, grading exams and setting the grade boundaries," Buchanan explained.

Buchanan's experiences have enriched her knowledge of the IB curriculum she teaches as well as the general classroom experience for her and her students.

"It's really exciting to be so involved with the IBO for the class I teach every day. I get to work with these great teachers from different countries who are teaching the same thing I am. It has all made me enjoy my classes even more!" raved Buchanan.

One would think that with all of this energy spent on school Buchanan would have no time to enjoy other things in life. But somehow Buchanan finds the time to partake in the finer things that life has to offer.

"I love books, traveling with my family, walking long distances-especially when the weather gets nice- and I love cheering for my kids at all their weekend sports events," said Buchanan.

What is one thing about Ms. Buchanan that her students would not expect? "I was a cheerleader in high school! Okay, maybe they would expect that."

Even though Ms. Buchanan has a great sense of humor and plenty of fun in and out of the classroom, she still manages to successfully create a great learning environment for her students. Her IB Mathematics SL students rack up excellent scores on their math IB exams.

Even with ten years of teaching at GW under her belt, Buchanan remains excited about her job which is evident when you see her.

"We have the greatest students here!" she said. "It's so nice that I get to go to a job I love every day."
